

Spend your American Recovery and Reinvestment Act funding wisely

Dear K-12 Professional,

Gale is pleased to partner with you for effective use of funds from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA).

A trusted partner

For decades, Gale has provided accurate and authoritative content to schools. Now, in these challenging economic times, we're developing an even closer partnership with educational professionals to offer the right resources at the best value. We've made it easy for you to see how Gale resources meet your needs and match ARRA funding criteria.

Consult www.galeschools.com/K12Funding

At www.galeschools.com/K12Funding, you'll discover how the $100 billion in ARRA funds dedicated to education are being distributed. You'll get answers to questions like:

- What is the Title I program and for what can its funds be used?
- How can funds available under Title IID — Enhancing Education through Technology — benefit my school?
- How can I invest in my students' future through IDEA (Individuals with Disabilities Education Act)?

At www.galeschools.com/K12Funding you'll also see how Gale resources align with ARRA guidelines and what benefits they provide for your school and students. Resources such as Global Issues in Context impart global awareness and enable students to think critically about 21st-century issues. While Gale's expansive suite of professional development tools — like the premier eBook collection from the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development — help your staff reach their goals and increase student success.
